

I Own a Bobcat

I love my BOBCAT. No, I really love my BOBCAT

I did a lot of the work myself; I did all of the tile, woodwork, hardwood floors, fireplaces, exterior painting, and landscaping. Sandy designed the house, including the lighting and decorating. She also sanded and painted all of the interior walls. On August 15, 2006, we received our Certificate of Occupancy. Today, I use my Bobcat to plow snow for three neighbors and myself. In the summer I do landscaping and use my forks to move large boulders. How many other candidates for State Auditor own a BOBCAT?

I really get excited when I see my Bobcat on my tandem trailer hooked to the back of my red '97 Chevy 4x4 Silverado. It means that I am going somewhere to have fun.

I'm Jeff Wiita, I'm a CPA, I drive a truck and own a Bobcat, and I'm asking for your vote for State Auditor at the Republican Convention.

My mom use to say, "The only thing different between men and boys are the size of their toys."

Well, that is absolutely true because I own a BOBCAT.

My Bobcat smells great (diesel great). It has glow plugs.

I even have steel tracks for my tires. The steel tracks give me power in loose dirt.

The first thing I bought with my Bobcat were forks. I use my forks to move everything.

In 2004, Sandy and I started building our second house. The house took two years to build. I needed my Bobcat and forks to build our playhouse.

Photos by Kayti Wiita

Panther Vision LED Cap
(Realtree Camo)

Panther Vision LED Cap
(Realtree Camo)

Carhartt Jacket

Cabela's GORE-TEX Bibs
(Realtree Camo)

LaCrosse Iceman Boots

Ready for Fun

The time for government accountability has come.

Sincerely,
Jeff Wiita, CPA

Prepared and paid for by Jeff Wiita, CPA for State Auditor
http://www.jeffforstateauditor.com/Home_Page.html

Contact Jeff